It's all about Zain...

Danny Rafael was first introduced to Zain by the talented vMaree (a multi skilled rapper, singer and manager to be featured next issue). Both vMaree and Zain had wanted to do a cover of 'Somebody to You,' originally performed by The Vamps & Demi Levato. The song had been quite popular on Australian Radio and both Zain and vMaree wanted to release a YouTube Video that would get some attention from the music industry (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zO_bHR6NF88).

"Zain has a voice that just cuts through the mix, a voice that is smooth but still has plenty of emotion."

When asked to recall the first time he recorded Zain's vocals, D:Raf said, "Zain has a voice that just cuts through the mix, a voice that is smooth but still has plenty of emotion.” Since their first encounter D:Raf and Zain have been collaborating on a new album of original material that features Zain’s lyrics and melody and D:Raf’s signature sound and music.

“Working with Danny has been so easy, and I could not be happier with the results,” remarks Zain. The songs at the moment are going through the mastering process at D:Raf Studio, however samples of ‘Let me Out of Here’ and ‘Hurts Just a Little’ are sure to impress many fans and gain attention in the Australian music market. The release of the album is expected around the middle of 2015.

In the meantime, Zain has been performing at various venues across Melbourne and wowing audiences everywhere with his impressive vocals. Manager and recording partner vMaree is overwhelmed with the interest Zain is accumulating and the public anticipation for the new album. “At the moment, we are reviewing many avenues for the distribution of Zain’s work. Whether we go with Wedge Tail records, Melodic Music, D:Raf Recording Studio or independently, each option has plenty of merit,” states vMaree.

The vision at D:Raf Recording Studio has always been to provide it’s clients with the full package of developing their artistic expression and offering ongoing and considerable support through whatever music business venture they want to follow. “It’s important that music creativity is essentially what drives us at D:Raf Studio. Music ‘business’ needs to sometimes take a backseat to this. Nobody wants to hear music that is too cliché and driven by only predicted profits,” remarks Danny Rafael.

One thing is always certain at D:Raf Studio – that the artist comes first, and quality recordings are produced ready for any type of commercial distribution.
